

ezeep Hub Enhances Microsoft 365 Link with Printing Capabilities for the Modern Zero-Trust Workplace

Berlin/Denver, December 3, 2024 – With Microsoft’s introduction of the Microsoft 365 Link, businesses gain a powerful device for leveraging Windows 365 Cloud PCs. However, one critical feature is missing: printing. ThinPrint, the expert in print solutions, addresses this gap with its ezeep Hub printing appliance. This plug-and-play device seamlessly integrates a secure, easy-to-manage printing feature into the Microsoft 365 Link, making the combination an ideal solution for Zero-Trust workplaces.

The new Microsoft 365 Link offers businesses a secure, resource-efficient, and user-friendly solution for accessing Cloud PCs. With features like support for dual 4K monitors and password-free login, the device is perfect for modern work environments. However, in industries where document-based workflows are still essential, printing continues to be indispensable.

The ezeep Hub fills this critical functionality gap by effortlessly integrating printers into the cloud environment. Users maintain access to familiar functions, while IT teams benefit from simplified management.

Why the ezeep Hub is a Perfect Addition:

1. Printing for Cloud PCs: Printers are reliably and securely available within Windows 365 Cloud PC sessions.
2. Zero-Trust Security: The ezeep Hub eliminates the need for technologies like VPNs or print servers, safeguarding the entire infrastructure.
3. Ease of Use: The Hub is easy to set up and can be managed remotely via the cloud, even at distributed locations.
4. Focus on Sustainability: The ezeep Hub is compact and energy efficient. ezeep also offsets the carbon emissions of all printed documents.

“Microsoft 365 Link has the potential to redefine modern work environments alongside Cloud PCs. As a long-standing Microsoft partner, we are proud to enhance these modern workplaces with simple, sustainable printing at a Zero-Trust level,” said Charlotte Künzell, CEO of ThinPrint GmbH.
